

Thomas Dolby- One Of Our Submarines

2014.dec.05

Ukens Utvalgte

After the 4 analysis of the BBC TV series, and still related to Norden/Norway 2014, there are certainly more aspects to consider. The recent Russian 5D turn seems to go from geopolitical war to trade-war, since the UN member nations response according to the UNC (United Nations Charter). However, such inter-continental trade-wars are ancient and have been going on in Norden since the Union 500 years ago. Still, there seems to be remarkable constants and properties concealed as new arguments in the Games of trade-policies. This UU will talk through some aspects of trade-alliances to get some different views. Still an association is like the lyrics of this weeks selected song – a missing and damaging sub-marine.

First of all, Norden, Norway included, is a fully member of the European Internal Market. Strangely enough, the main challenges is to realize this reality and act upon it. A unique and fundamental aspect for the European market is democracy and human rights. This is in accordance with the definition of LifeQuality where the individual needs are essential (ref UU 2014.sept.05). Furthermore, the European democratic market is strictly regulated by 'the rule of law'. This is an anti-thesis to SU1 autocratic and SU2 oligopolistic market dominations. None is, or will ever be, in some Eurasian trade-market. In fact it is not even clear what such a Eurasian deal is or what it might become, - except that its powers are not democratic. It rather seems to be just another geopolitical diluted ideology to acquire land and capital.

There are several rivaling inter-continental trade-unions. Russia promotes a Eurasian trade-agreement for east-European nations as an alternative to EU. It is not quite clear who would be a member of it. Nationalists and irredentists want to form a Greater Russia to retake territories of the former Soviet Union and the Russian Empire. Neo-Eurasianism is an idea after the collapse of SU1 that Russia is culturally closer to Asia than to Europe. The Eurasian Economic Community originated from the CIS in 2000, a Customs Union of Belarus, Kazakhstan and Russia. However, no Russian Treaty includes China or (western) Europe. In fact, east European nations struggle hard to get out of trade unions of SU1. The wars towards Georgia and Ukraine in UU 2014.nov.21 shows the true motives and natures all too well.

The Good Country Index shows that neither Russia nor China should dominate trade agreements. They are both about # 100 in the GCI. This is a reason why they both primarily uses force towards weaker parts to dominate them in unfair trade-relations. This is also a reason why it took so long for both Russia and China to be members of the global World Trade Organization (WTO) and get the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). In the recent years, the puppet president Putin has ruined all those achievements with further ulterior war Games towards the Georgian and Ukraine sovereign nations. Neo-SU has proved all too well to the world for unseeingly future that they are violators of the UNC and not to be trusted in neither war nor peace. In fact SU1 and SU2 do constant trade-wars towards continents and nations like Europe, Norden and Norway.

SU has been highly involved in European trade and national democratic elections. By experiences, the European peoples and nations do not trust them, because of the past century of wars, massacres, invasions and infiltrations. The losses are countless. However, - still the markets are highly manipulated by ulterior political Games. Actually, it is rather easy to spot it these days of the information society. As mentioned several times, one can only look at the English version of Pravda at internet, read about Mitrokhin, STASI, FSB, etc. in Wikipedia or google any other relevant key-words. On the other hand, it is also too easy to get distracted by the Games and forget what it is really about.

Far more relevant, important and realistic than Eurasia is the attempt to make an US-EU trade relation called TTIP (Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership). The TTIP is a proposed free trade agreement between EU and US. Documents show three broad areas; market access, specific regulation, broader rules and principles and modes of co-operation. US considers the TTIP a companion agreement to the Trans-Pacific Partnership (Asia). Proponents say the agreement would result in multilateral economic growth, while critics say it would increase corporate power and make it more difficult for governments to regulate markets for public benefit. Anyhow, the TTIP agreement might be finalized in the near future.

The European Trade agreement, where Norway by law is a fully member, regulates the four freedoms of movements for; labor, services, products and capital, - as well as the three exception for HRM (Health, Security and Environment). This is talked through in UU 2014.okt.24 and some main points are: "In 1994 the law-making parliament ratified the EEA law concerning the European internal market instead of becoming a full member of EU. Today, 20 years later, there are just minor practical adaptations to the law." "The Constitutional Law, the Human Rights Law and the EEA Law are all superior in their areas and can be related to the Penalty Law. The EEA law clearly prohibits customs duties, discriminatory taxes and measures having equivalent effects, abuse of market dominance, discriminating agreements, and public undertakings are regulated as well. Unfair competitive public state aid to undertakings are forbidden. Social support shall not be paid directly to any undertakings, but directly to the citizens. This means that alternative providers to public service providers of schools, transport, health etc. became legal 20 years ago. However, illegal public discriminations are still widespread in the markets in favor of own undertakings, oligopolistic cartels and certain unions."

Furthermore: "The public sector and the Government are responsible for the legal regulation of the market. Practices, however, indicate that there is not proper will and ability to legally regulate the collective resources and undertakings." "80% of the Nordic undertakings are 'Small and Medium sized (SME/SMB) that suffer from abuse from the enormous public market dominances', - which is highly illegal according to LOA (Lov om Offentlige Anskaffelser). Illegal activities and in-actions by public servants can be personally prosecuted according to the Penalty Law (Straffeloven)."

A most serious political explanation to the massive public crimes of trade is talked through in UU 2013.august.16: "Can all the political parties be trusted in relation to Europe? The EU election clearly indicates 'No' for all the so-called mid-parties, SP, SV, V and KrF. Even though it is honest to be hard-core opponent and argue against European internal market, - it is directly dishonest and can be criminal when the parties knew very well that the EEA treaty would be signed and ratified by the parliament anyway, - without any citizens referendum. The parties gained lots of votes by arguing against the 'four freedoms', that they knew would be ratified with the EEA agreement anyway. The EEA law (EØS loven) has since 1994 been law and will not be annulled even though some politicians sometimes claim so. When the faith was sealed in advance, and the politicians knew that, it is so clearly that the massive anti-European propaganda simply had anti-European motives - far beyond the voters' interests. The propaganda still sits in major parts of the democracy as some diluted obsessions." This major mass-corruption becomes very clear now, - 20 years later. The Mitrokhin-archive reveals that Moscow with KGB greatly financed and manipulated the anti-Europe campaigns. It also explains why the EEA law is violated daily for 20 years, - and that the crimes keeps on every single day without legal reaction according to 'rule of law'. In that sense, the most serious parts of the penalty law is applicable.

The major actor in the Scandinavian market LO, is most relevant for Trade agreements. LO-nor, LO-dnk and LO-swe, are not Labor organizations like ILO (The International Labor Organization) that is a United Nations agency dealing with labor issues according to the Human Rights. The 3 Scandinavian LO do not truly relate to UN HR but are Trade organizations for oligarchies that have the labor as an asset for dominant business capitalism. It is most effectively done by oligarchies tightly merge with political parties preferably in governmental positions. In fact, LO fights against UN HR on several occasions. The 3 Scandinavian LOs are collective branches and remote controlled from Moscow according to the Moscow thesis from the Stalin period. (See also UU 2013.sept.20, UU 2013.aug.23.)

The Danish annual report clarifies myths and truths about all the LOs in UU 14.okt.2011: "LO is not what they appear to be. LO is a big capitalistic multinational enterprise with unrestrained desire for profit. It abuses thousands of low waged people as unpaid labor in others' enterprises. Their services avoid the tax system by comradely ulterior agreements. The Danish LO economic key-numbers are clear: the enterprise's equity is 656 million kroner, there are only 148 paid employees, the annual profit is -17.3 mill kr and therefor LO pays no taxes. Their basic values-system is clearly its own capital and power, - not the peoples. As mentioned, the fundament of LO was made by the mafia boss Stalin that saw a cascade of CdE Games by infiltration of the national labor-organizations. Since then, LO has been a cynical bureaucratic organization that uses both physical and psychological violence, - in addition to putting corrupt and incompetent members in other firms' decision-processes at both sides of the negotiation table. Their main motive is not the members or other citizens' welfare. The argument about solidarity, welfare, and equal payment, is used because it's profitable to do so." Clearly, LO is no Human Rights organization at all, - quite the opposite at times.

There is a relation to the previous UU about sub-cultures' preparation for organized CdE crimes. It all points directly to the LO historical phases in 1914-2014. The Stalinazism phase in ww2, the cold war relation to RAF-nor, RAF-dnk and RAF-swe, - and the Maoist conversions are talked through in UU 2014.nov.21 and UU 2014.nov.14. It might be hard to see these circumstances. Therefor some chapters from a dedicated UU 2013.sept.27 is translated in the following 4 chapters to tell how it actually works on micro-level, for individual human being of the system:

"Previously, there have been given strong warnings towards LO hidden agendas and infiltrations of AP governments. It is important to know this because the strong anti-cultures to the Parliament and Government oppose the necessary re-organizations of the public sector. It is crucial to distinct between the image of a 'trusted union agent' and the true nature of LO. A main task is to sell other peoples work to its own customers/members. Consequently, labor with alternative Will or incompetence are hired in enterprises, - especially in the public sectors. This has several negative consequences for employees, leaders, firms and society. Generally, the negative consequences becomes rather clear to see if a pilot was substituted with a mechanic, a nurse with a doctor, or a handyman with an architect. Likewise, it is understandable when LO dopes an organization with incompetent leaders where their main motive is that they have paid LO and stated an alternative loyalty. Soon the LO agents get dependent on extra 'helpers' and need teams with alternative loyalties, - and scapegoats to blame. Soon too many employees are hired to compensate for the LO agents. Such an unqualified leader will feel threatened by employees with proper skills and might start destructive Games like 'Robinson' (King of the Hill) to keep the position. (See UU 2013.mars.15.) The result of such cultures in the public sector can be read in the 22/7 Commission's Report. (UU 2014.okt.17.)

"It might be hard to believe how LO works as a labors' mafia, - if it is not personally experienced. The experiences is from Teledirektoratet (state directory of telecommunications) at a main national telecom-center. Any fresh educated engineer is soon confronted with a LO agent ('trusted man' (tillitts-mann) as they call themselves). Everyone is expected to be recruited as a member. The message was simple: 'Pay (be a member of LO), because it pays off the next time you apply for a job.' Naive, it might be, in the belief that any worker have the UN Human Rights for equality even in LO dominated public sectors. The experience is, however, that LO needs to set examples on how bad it goes for an employee that do not pay them. The term 'service age' practically meant how long LO was paid, not the employments duration. The term 'solidarity' merely meant loyalty to LO that could be the opposite of the company and its employees. The 'Jante' culture is simply organized psychopathy (mobbing), where labeling, rumoring, and discrimination are legitimated methods to unify the collective. With that critiques given, - the single employee is not to blame when a mafia threatens their family's foundation for existence by job, wages and career, - knowing that it all can be crushed if one dares to oppose LO."

"A dramatic example on LO contempt towards the 'freedom of organization' became publically clear in Denmark. There was a tavern in Vejle (Vejle Kro) that was dissatisfied with LO/3F. Therefor they changed to the union 'Christian employer organization'. LO reacted with blockade of the tavern so both suppliers and customers were hindered. The illegalities were called 'sympathy strike' by LO and thereby the police felt prohibited to interference. As planned, the blockade caused serious economic problems that could lead to bankruptcy. However, the medias' public attention kept LO still for a while. Then, one evening, the manager was knock unconscious and the tavern partly burned. LO was quick to charge the manager for the fire and for insurance fraud, with the argument that their security cameras had not registered anyone but the manager. After a long investigation, police annulled the charge, but the case is still very difficult for the firm and the manager. This case shows clearly that LO still is dominated by the 'ghost' of its Stalin culture that puts itself over the legal system and democratic ethics. (See also UU 2013.juli.05.)

By experience, LO's objective is not to contribute positive to working places, - they merely re-distribute the employers' resources for their own profit. In Teledirektoratet, the official leader was put completely aside and LO agents dominated with the alternative loyalties. The government and parliament had no control over its vital directory. Later, in Statskonsult/AD, there was an analysis that showed that only 1/3 of the workforce was required to do the job. The required rationalizations of the public sector can feel like dramatic threats to those involved, - if not converted to inclusive and innovative productivity. That is the kind of fear LO strongly promotes with symbolic fists and uproar about razing their market. It is therefore necessary to take a closer look at what LO motives really are in profit, disloyalties and power, - and act on their Games."

More generally at national levels, - it seems like Russia and China has some ulterior mutual agreement to support each other's expansive geo-politics. China helps Russia in Norden and the Arctic regions, while Russia helps China in Asia. China tried to buy land in Greenland, Iceland and Svalbard. Note that some small land areas include rights for large ocean areas. These areas are particularly important for Russia's ambitions to expand in the northern regions, - but not so much for China. China on the other hand wants control over Asian lands like Tibet, Taiwan, Korea, Japan etc. In this relation and as mentioned in UU 2014.juni.13, the Danish RAF leader Gotfred Appel converted from Stalinism to Maoism in the 60. 'Red Army' (SU and China, have thereby) influenced the Danish intelligence work considerably in half a century. Consequently, strange events in Danish politics like China's manipulation of the global environment conference, Chinese temptations of major investments in Denmark, Chinese rights before the neighbor EU in the Artic counsel, and the Chinese proposal for extreme social dumping for uranium mining in Greenland (see also UU 2012.Mars.02and UU 2014.mars.14.)

The Norwegian oil production is vital for Europa's needs, independence and security. However, political trade-related environmental arguments are abused to hinder that. As mentioned in UU 2013.sept.20: "The gigantic competitor to European energy-supplies, Gazprom, do already test-drilling in the Arctic region. Norway should be concerned about this gigantic competitor that already is far on the way with alternative gas-supplies by pipes via Danish islands to Europe, in addition to the Russian gas-agreement that caused the imprisoning of the former elected president (Yulia Tymoshenko) in Ukraine (See also UU 17.Feb.2012)." Furthermore in UU 2013.juli.19: "The Norwegian government did the opposite reaction when Chinese officials made threats after the NGO Nobel committee honored an imprisoned Chinese humanist. (The Danish government denied any involvement when threatened by Muslim extremists under the Mohammad crises that was caused by the newspaper Jyllandsposten.) The Norwegian government gave into threats and unreasonable demands, like giving China observer status in the Arctic council instead of EU. Furthermore, China wants special rights from Denmark for mining on Greenland with extreme social dumping. Obviously, the Danish government is also under unreasonable pressure from China. However, globally, there are much more at stake, like a creation of a Chinese outpost in the NATO region, mining for uranium and a free port to the Northwest Passage – the future shortcut for Asia and EU.”

A fundamental reason for the general skepticism towards SU activities and politics in the Arctic, is explained in UU 12.aug.2011: “For Norway, and the rest of the world, the destruction in Arctic is unbelievable all-embracing. The nuclear catastrophes in the 60’s were massively silenced. However, now anyone can see and read about the SU detonations (nearby Novaya Zemlya) of 224 nuclear bombs, 265 megatons, with a blast-force 20,000 times the Hiroshima bomb, - or 100 times all the blast-force in ww2. It is similar to a totally destructive nuclear war in the North Pole region with accordingly radioactive pollution (and ‘nuclear summer’). This is a major global concern and no merely an internal affair. The radioactive waste is spread with the winds and with the Atlantic and Pacific streams. There is also radioactive waste on the melting ice. All remaining life, like fish, polar bears, whales and seals were highly exposed. Attempts to tell about these circumstances was strongly opposed by the Secret Services. The Nikitin case about radioactive sub-marines were just scratched the surface before another phase of total censorship.” However, - most destructive of them all was the ozone-blaster Tsar Bomba that alone had 10 times all the ww2 blast-force. No wonder that this place has the highest increase in warming and that the ice melts so rapidly.

All in all, - personal and general experience, - in the song there is a damaged and missing submarine that leaks radioactivity. It makes associations to the ulterior RAF sub-cultures playing Underworld Games at high costs in the democratic civilizations of Europe. The real objections are of the sub-marine forgotten and probably not relevant anymore, - like some sub-cultures of lost sociopaths of RAF origin, like some LO cultures of in Teledirektoratet and CSC Denmark vs Pirate Bay (ref previous UU 2014.nov.28.).

Thomas Dolby has been selected several times in UU. He had several innovative songs in the top of his career. This song ‘One of our Submarines’ is a synth-pop classic and inspired of the atmosphere of the cold war. It makes one think that it still is as relevant today as then, - even in the near future. One can be overwhelmed of circumstances at a much higher level than the personal. Thomas has some political texts as well as an Englishman that also is concerned about Europe and the arctic region.

A relation UK-SU? That goes all the way back to the tsar Ivan and Queen Elisabeth I.
